Q.1: Read the passage carefully and answer briefly. (10)

Too much importance must not be attached to the wrong acts done by children, particularly if they happen to be of a minor nature. Many boys and girls at young age are likely to be in the habit of stealing, neglecting their studies, slipping out of their classes, or using bad language. In nearly every case, the root cause of the trouble is the fear that proper care of the child is not taken in the house, or sufficient interest is not shown in him. But if the parents were wise, they would correct the faults of their children by paying more attention to them. Whatever the case, one thing never be done. The bad thing in the children should never be repressed, that is, they should not be compelled to change for the better under fear of the rod. Physical punishment does not improve them. It only makes worse than before.
